

Excellent ecosystem

The strength of the Maastricht Region is defined by the combination of the innovative economy, its international position, and inspiring living environment.

The melting pot of research, education and entrepreneurship forms a regional ecosystem that is appealing to scientists and decision makers with innovative ideas and shapes an environment in which international conventions feel at ease.

With our partners we form a unique and personal congress community that guarantees the success of every convention taking place in this region

Jurgen Moors, Managing Director

Maastricht: the Netherlands' most European city

You can feel it, see it, and taste it. It's a place with an authentic energy and dynamism that you won't experience anywhere else in the Netherlands. Its mix of cultures, languages, and flavours makes the city burst with creativity, research, enterprise, and culinary delights.

Exuberant

A city which is exuberant by nature; made all the more so by its international students and visitors. A city where impressive historic highlights intermingle with modern innovative concepts. A city with a prime position on the Kennis-As Limburg which is becoming increasingly important for business visitors.

Unforgettable

A city which seems to keep growing in size thanks to the countless possibilities of the surrounding hill country and of neighbouring cities in Belgium and Germany. Which, thanks to its mix of nature, culture, and architecture, makes every visit unforgettable. In short, a city just waiting to be discovered!
